

Gratitude Cornucopia (Display)

Marlborough Public Library

Children

Gratitude Cornucopia (Display)

Nov 19, 2015

Free

Byline

Katrina Lewin Ealy, Children's Librarian, Marlborough (Mass.) Public Library

Patrons write what they are thankful for on paper vegetables and fill the paper cornucopia — and the entire bulletin board — with gratitude. Everyone was invited to participate, but kids wrote the majority of the answers since I run the children's room. People were thankful for their family, friends and pets; for Paw Patrol and Batman; for chocolate bars and best friends and sunny days to ride their bikes.

Program Execution

Image

The pieces (located under Attachments at right)

- Hand-drawn food: print each sheet on the color of paper that's written on the side of the page

How to assemble

1. Draw a big cornucopia on a piece of brown butcher paper or corrugated cardboard. If you use butcher paper, laminate it so it doesn't become ragged. I free-handed the cornucopia, which I know isn't easy for a lot of people, but once you get the shape right, it's not too hard. Don't stress about this part, because it'll be covered up, anyway.
2. Print out the PDF of hand-drawn food, and copy each page several times onto colored paper (suggested colors are written on the side of each page of the PDF). This works better than trying to load a rainbow into the printer.

3. Once you have the colored pages of food, cut out the vegetables and put them into a little basket with a few markers. In our library, patrons brought their completed vegetables to the circulation desk and we taped them up. We did this so kids, who want to tape their food super high, wouldn't climb onto the furniture. (I may have had this happen a few times before.) The answers I liked the best were the ones you might not expect; yes, we are all thankful for family and friends, but this year, our patrons were also grateful for Spike (the library's pet turtle), princess dresses, Netflix and the interlibrary loan (me, too!).

Supporting Materials

Document

food_cutouts.pdf

Download this Program as a PDF

- Feedback (Coming Soon!)
- Programming Librarian Facebook Group

Slideshow Images

Image

More Programs

Jul 27, 2015

Young Adult (17 - 20)+ | $

Image

Sweet Treat Book Club

Audiences:

Audience

Young Adult (17 - 20)

Jul 22, 2015

Young Adult (17 - 20)+ | ☐☐

Image

Who Am I? (Display)

Audiences:

Young Adult (17 - 20)

Adults (21 and up)

Intergenerational

Nov 12, 2015

Children (9 and under)+ | $$

Image

Books and Bites

Audiences:

Children (9 and under)

Adults (21 and up)

Intergenerational