

Latino Americans: 500 Years of History

A Celebration of Latino Lives in Florida

What's your story of Latino life in South Florida? Does it involve food? Language? Culture? Family? Is it funny, poignant – or a little bit loco? Here's your chance to celebrate and showcase your most memorable memories.

Saturday, September 19, 2015

3:00 – 5:00 pm

Library 308

Free and open to the public

Seating is limited

Refreshments will be served

Caren Neile, PhD

Join professional storyteller Caren Neile, PhD, for an enlightening and entertaining session that helps you overcome shyness, paint pictures with words, use your voice and body to your best advantage, and much more. Then, share your own brief stories with others in an informal and welcoming setting.

Selected stories from participants will air Sunday, October 11, at 4:00 pm, on Miami public radio WLRN 91.3 FM and will appear on the Public Storyteller website.

For more information, contact Merlene Nembhard at 305.899.4051 or mnembhard@barry.edu.

Barry University

LATINO AMERICANS
500 YEARS OF HISTORY

ALA American Library Association

50 NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES
FIFTY YEARS

This event is presented by the Monsignor William Barry Memorial Library and is made possible by the “Latino Americans: 500 Years of History” grant from the National Endowment of Humanities and the American Library Association. Local partners include Brockway Memorial Library, Miami Shores Fine Arts Commission, WLRN/Folk and Acoustic Music and Public Storyteller Project.