

The scroll with the story on it gets a string tied around it and it is placed in the hollow Paris book.

Map is shut and sits prominently on the table, as well as scratch paper and a feathered black pencil to write with.

Blue locked book, Paris book, and rune translation book are placed on bookshelf with the rest of the books. No books should be left out.

Mandrake with key on the bottom goes back in his bucket, mandrake sits next to other plant on little table.

All other things go back in a generally picked up manner...but no particular placements. Double check that they have BLANK scratch paper and at least one pencil with a feather on it.

