

Wild New Jersey: Nature Adventures in the Garden State

Wednesday, April 20

7 p.m. - 8:45 p.m.

Cherry Hill Public Library

Half Conference Center, Lower Level

In contrast to the state's reputation, New Jersey offers unmatched wildlife and an array of outdoor nature adventures – all within a short drive of anywhere in the state.

Nature author and Conserve Wildlife Foundation director, David Wheeler, spent a year exploring the state's unparalleled diversity of wildlife species that call New Jersey home, its dramatic range of wildlife habitats, and its ample opportunities for thrilling nature activities lie dog sledding, mountain climbing, and wildlife boat tours. From bald eagles and bobcats to horseshoe crabs and tiger salamanders, Wild New Jersey brings nature to life.

Attend this program to gather ideas and plans your next outdoor adventure!

About the Presenter: David Wheeler is the Executive Director of the nonprofit Conserve Wildlife Foundation of New Jersey. Mr. Wheeler has worked on wildlife conservation and environmental issues in NJ and beyond for more than a decade. He is the author of the 2011 book Wild New Jersey: Nature Adventures in the Garden State, and is a contributor to the 2014 book, Bald Eagles in Meadowlands and Beyond. Mr. Wheeler earned his M.B.A. from New York University's Stern School of Business and B.A. from American University in Washington DC.
